U. S. Ready for Immediate War

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The United States today, after six months of secret work, is ready for an immediate war and at a moment's notice can arm and equip 500,000 men for battle with any first-class power.

This is the first time in history that this country ever has been in a war footing.

The plans call for increasing the regular army to its maximum limit, the mustering into regular service of the entire militia throughout the United States and the raising of the remainder of the army of 500,000 men from the rank and file of citizens.

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 3.—The United States cruiser Tacoma took up a commanding position in the harbor to-day and Mexican officials were widely excited as a result. The Tacoma now lies two hundred feet from the wharf with her guns trained on the city, which she is in a position to shell if orders for such action were given.

An explanation of the Tacoma's action has been demanded by the port officials.

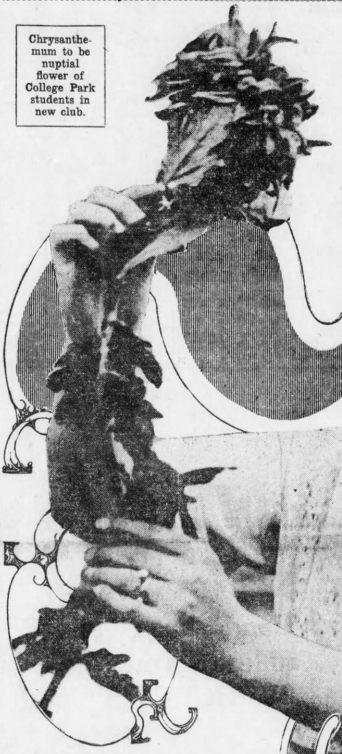

Previously the Tacoma had lain outside the harbor. On her way in to-day her propeller was fouled with a submerged cable near the entrance to the harbor. When the cable was hauled away the vessel swung around in front of the Mexican cruiser Vera Cruz and took up a position between that vessel and the shore.

Miss Dorothy Trammell Organizes Club to Have Members Raise Own Nuptial Flowers.

Gracious goodnights almost just listen, all you seekers after the new and the unusual. There is something new under the sun, bliss society to the contrary notwithstanding.

Its habitat is, or will be, Cox College.

Its originator is Miss Dorothy Trammell, one of the most beautiful and popular of Cox College girls, who lives in College Park.

IT was always said it with capital—was a Chrysanthemum Club, but has been a Chrysanthemum Club! When all of its aims and purpose shall have been achieved, the fame that has been Jesse Wilson's because she is to have a "mum" wedding will have faded sadly into the mire. For the members of Miss Trammell's club are to have a "mum" wedding when the happy time arrives.

Rule 1. Every member must, before her wedding, plant and raise the "mums" that are to be used at her wedding.

ASSETS TO WIN TONING S MENACE

New Justice Tells Body It Must Not Spare Liquor Law Violators.

Judge Ben Hill, in his first official act as a member of the Superior Court bench, Monday opened a campaign against illegal traffic in intoxicants, with especial reference to locker clubs which may be violating the prohibition laws.

Charging his first grand jury, he urged the most careful inquiry into the conditions under which the locker clubs are operating, and if any were found to be disregarding the law in any way to indict the men operating them.

"There are rumors that some of the locker clubs are not complying with the law," said Judge Hill. "This may or may not be true, but it is your duty as the highest body in the county to make a most careful investigation. The man who is deliberately violating the law which rules that whisky must not be sold should be severely dealt with, be he in a locker club or a public or private place. No matter what your personal opinion may be regarding the sale of intoxicants, you are to act as the law dictates."

Whisky and the Pistol.

"The two great evils of life, the modern housewife would say, are whisky and a pistol. Each of them is a great evil in itself, but together they form the greatest menace to life."

"I urge of you that every man in the last two years who has been guilty of having a weapon upon him, unless he has a permit from the ordinary, be immediately indicted. I think there should be a law against the sale of pistols, for the modern revolver is the most deadly weapon ever made."

"The man who carries one is a menace to the life of the community and should be dealt with in a manner to make it a lesson to others."

It is also your duty to make the close investigation into violations of the gaming laws. If there is gambling in Fulton County you should take the step that will break it up. In 1880, when Captain English was Mayor, and I was Solicitor General, we broke up gambling here, and if the rumors that gambling is going on here now are true you are the men to be held responsible for it."

"Upon a grand jury depends the lessening of crime, by strict and firm consideration of the cases coming before it. I do not know that crime is on the increase, but the newspapers tell us that it is. The duty of a grand jury is most important. His position is a responsible one, for upon him depends the welfare of a community."

The organizing and charging of the grand jury was unique in the annals of Fulton County court history. Judge W. H. Ellis presiding, an old custom of the other three judges, Bell, Pendleton and Ellis, handling the criminal docket in rotation, with the assistance of Judge Roan, of the Stone Mountain Circuit, is abolished. Judge Hill will handle all criminal felony cases and only in cases of extreme emergency, where the criminal docket becomes badly crowded, will any of the other three judges handle criminal cases. Judge Charles L. Field will be in a state of suppressed excitement all Monday over the revival of the work of the felony branch of the Criminal Court, and the shifting of the hearing arguments in the labor court cases.

271 in Tower, Most At Any One Time in Mangum's Regime

Sheriff Mangum reported Monday that the Tower population is at the high mark of his five years' administration. The number of inmates Monday was 271. The high mark came last Friday, with 286 prisoners.

The Frank trial and hearing for a new trial have acted as the dam which backed up the stream of humanity that flows in and out of the jail. More than a hundred prisoners at one time were awaiting trial.

Of the 271 in the Tower Monday, 241 were State and County, 27 were United States prisoners and the balance were in the jail 1243 prisoners, an average of 436 a year.

Suit Against Company.

Suit for the annulment and forfeiture of the franchise of the Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Company and the appointment of a receiver for the company was filed this afternoon in the Circuit Court by Attorney Charles F. Tiede and R. E. Pearson.

Charles F. Tiede, one of the attorneys that filed the suit, is a Democratic deputy prosecuting attorney.

Candler Predicts Federal Ownership of Railroads Fight

Murphy Chandler, chairman of the Georgia Railroad Commission, Monday predicted a movement for the Federal ownership of common carriers at an early date, upon his return from Washington, D. C., where he attended the annual meeting of the National Railway Commissioners' Association.

Mr. Chandler declared that Federal supervision of railroads was already attracting a great deal of attention throughout the nation, as expressed at the meeting, and that this was simply the portal of Federal ownership movement.

"It may be years in coming," said the State Commissioner, "but, mark my prediction, it is coming and coming with force."

Considerable agitation was aroused during the meeting for the reappointment of Judge Clements to the Interstate Commerce Commission. His chief opponent for this position is Governor Glenn, of North Carolina.

DICTATOR PREVIOUSLY ATTACKS U.S.

SURE THINGS SEEN BY NUTTING

Supporters of Alderman Ragsdale Believe Harwell Support Will Be Given Them.

Friends of Alderman James R. Nutting Tuesday declared that there was no longer any doubt about his election to the office of Mayor Pro Tem. They claim 17 of the 30 votes in Council. The optimistic announcement was made after a conference of the leaders, which took place immediately following the adjournment of Council Monday afternoon.

Supporters of Alderman Ragsdale, the Nutting faction, are by no means willing to concede a victory to Alderman Harwell. They expect to win, but they admit that their only chance to get all the support that is now lined up behind Alderman J. H. Harwell.

Conceding that strength goes to Harwell, Nutting's supporters claim that they still have their votes. Alderman Nutting has been forward as a strictly anti-Woodward party candidate and the leader of this faction take the view that they will not afford to suffer defeat.

Woodward Keeps Silent.

Mayor Woodward is silent, and that adds to the uncertainty of the situation. He might exert himself before the voting takes place. Another unsettled point is that a new member of Council must be elected from the Second Ward before the selection of the new Mayor Pro Tem. Councilman Thomas L. Lynch, senior Councilman from that ward, announced Tuesday that he would resign on December 1. His successor will be named by Council instead of by the voters of that ward. It is said that either Robert R. Otis or J. L. Harwell will be the man. It is not yet known how either of these would stand in the Mayor Pro Tem fight, but if the Nutting forces control the strength they claim the new Councilman, whoever he may be, will be a Nutting supporter. He would have to be that to get elected.

How They Line Up.

The known attitudes of the members of Council are as follows:
For Nutting--Woodward, Alverson, Thomson, Maddox, Stason, Wood, Royman, Owens, Candier, Smith, White, Mason--12.

For Ragsdale--Knight, Shepard, Hall, Colcord, Humphrey, Kimbrough--4.

For Harwell--Ashley, McDonald--2.

Dundell, Harwell, Kelley and the new member to be elected from the second ward, Faringer, Lee, Nutting, Armstrong, Dallas, Ragsdale--9.

Work of Firemen Saves Lumber Yard And Vacant House

Fire which for a time threatened to destroy thousands of dollars' worth of lumber was discovered in the roof of the office of the Williams Lumber Company, No. 542 Whitehall street, Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock.

The prompt arrival of the fire department prevented the flames from reaching the pile of lumber. A large hole was burned in the roof before the fire was extinguished.

Fifteen minutes after the Whitehall street fire smoke was seen coming from a vacant house at No. 147 Cooper street, where a blaze had started mysteriously in a closet on the first floor. About $100 damage was done to the building before the fire was put out.

Mrs. Wilson called incognito, and when Public Printer Ford heard she had been there he discharged H. C. Terry, a messenger, who had escorted Mrs. Wilson through the building, because he had not brought her to Mr. Ford's office. A word by telephone to a White House got the messenger reinstated.

TAMMANY'S DOOM SEEN AT POLLS

For First Time Organization Is Outside Choice in New York
Balloting.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Tammany and boss rule in New York today faced their latest, fiercest fight when the polls opened for the first time with the organization candidate for Mayor an outside choice among those considered wise politically.

Indications at an early hour are that an unprecedented majority will be rolled up against Edward McCall, the choice of Chief Murphy of Tammany Hall, while bettering scores to 5 to 1 that John Purroy Mitchell, candidate of the fusionists, would be elected Mayor. It is also declared that the entire independent ticket will be elected along with Mitchell.

A notable feature of this, the most strenuous battle that Tammany has ever waged, is that each of the opposing factions is being led by a former Atlantic. Tammany's campaign has been conducted by Joe Johnson, while Robert Adamson, secretary to the late Mayor Clayton, has been at the helm of the Mitchell fight.

It was conceded that William B. Egan, elected to the Assembly on the Progressive ticket by a big plurality.

Massachusetts Contest
For Governor Bitter.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Voters in every city and town in Massachusetts are balloting today to decide a bitter contest for the governorship, with Lieutenant Governor David I. Walsh, the regular Democratic candidate, a big favorite in the betting.

With the victory conceded in many quarters to Walsh there was a lively interest over the order in which Charles Sumner Bird, Progressive; Congressman A. P. Gardner, Republican, and Governor Fox, Independent, would finish.

In addition to a Governor, voters were casting their ballots for Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, State Treasurer, State Auditor, Attorney General, eight members of the Executive Council, 40 Senators, 240 Representatives and various County officials.

The polls opened in Boston at 8 a. m. and a good early vote was recorded. A heavy vote is expected throughout the State on account of the rivalry among the four leading candidates.

There has been much activity in getting out the vote, and political managers declared between 400,000 and 450,000 ballots would be cast, a record number for a year following a presidential election.

The Weather Bureau predicted real old-fashioned Democratic weather for today--a further encouraging sign for the Walsh supporters. Making good the prediction, rain began to fall in Eastern Massachusetts at 7 o'clock.

Democrats Look
Winners in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 4.—For the first time in Maryland voters throughout the State today are casting their ballots for a United States Senator. One Congressman, from the Third District, to succeed the late George Keene; members of both houses of the legislature, State Comptroller, Sheriff of Baltimore City and scattered State and city officials of lesser importance are being voted on today.

Early indications pointed to a heavy vote, and foreboded an almost complete victory for the Democratic candidates.

HERE'S MOST PERFECT BEAUTY IN AMERICA

Miss Margaret Adamick, of Chicago, in characteristic poses showing the radiance of splendid health.

Measurements Prove Her To Be of Ideal Proportions and Exact Symmetry.

NORTHAMPTON, IARSH, Nov. 4. Miss Margaret Adamick has leaped into a most enviable notoriety as the most perfect American beauty?

The title of "America's most perfect beauty" has been conferred upon her by the experts of Smith College after weeks of research.

Miss Adamick is little more than 16 and her measurements, the college experts declare, compare more closely to those of the Venus de Milo than to any one of the other young women who have been publicly acclaimed the "twentieth century Venus."

As furnished by the college authorities, Miss Adamick's measurements are as follows:

Weight 117 pounds
Height 5 feet 5 inches
Bust 34 inches
Waist 24 inches
Hips 34 inches
And just think of it! said her proud mother, when the report of the experts had been sent to her home in Chicago, "she was refused permission to play basket ball until she procured a physician's certificate stating that she was in good health."

"One of the physicians who examined her said:

"In addition to her beauty of face and figure she knows how to carry herself, how to walk and stand and sit. She is the only girl in this college who has ever attained such physical perfection."

Decatur to Vote On Amendments To City's Charter

Decatur citizens will vote on amendments to the city charter Wednesday, and to-day it is the sole topic of conversation in the DeKalb County town.

A meeting was held at the court house in Decatur Monday night, which was attended by 160 of the 260 registered voters. A long debate was expected, but the eloquence of some of the speakers was cut off by putting the question as to whether the meeting favored the amendment or not. More than 100 men voted against it, less than 20 for it, while 40 did not express themselves.

The amendments provide for the election by the people of the City Marshal, Superintendent of the Waterworks and the City Clerk, positions heretofore filled by the Council. The amendments also provide cuts in salaries.

EVERY PEACE EFFORT BLOCKED BY AMERICA, DIPLOMATS ARE TOLD

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—General Huerta will ignore, for the time being at least, the demand of the United States that he resign from the Presidency made last Sunday, but just learned of by the public. His future action will depend on the outcome of conferences which he will hold with members of the diplomatic corps. The first of these took place at the National Palace last night while troops guarded entrance to the structure. None of the diplomats who took part would discuss the meeting to-day.

It is reported, however, that Huerta made a long address to the foreign envoys, told them of the steps he was taking to restore peace in Mexico and pledged himself to establish tranquility in the republic if he could have their support. It is said that he made a bitter attack on the American government, declaring that his every effort had been hampered from the beginning from his administration by Washington officials and that had it not been for their interference he would have been able to secure a loan large enough to establish the financial stability of his government.

The conferences are expected to last several days and Huerta is expected to make his reply to President Wilson's demands only after the foreign envoys have communicated his plea to their home governments and received instructions.

Hops for Powers' Support.

Huerta by this action is making a strong bid for international support, but no matter what the outcome may be, it is expected that his answer will be the complete defiance of the American demands. He has a faint hope of securing support from other powers, but if this falls Huerta is expected to "go it alone" and lead the Mexican army in person against any invaders.

It is possible that Huerta will make no formal reply to the American demand, but will, instead, have passports handed to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the United States Charge d'Affaires. This will be official notification that the diplomatic relations of the two countries are severed.

The next step in the natural course of events would be war. Diplomatic relations, however, probably will not be severed until the diplomatic conference is ended. The envoys of Russia, Germany and Norway returned from Vera Cruz to-day.

These three men, fresh from their conferences with John Lind, are to exert great influence in preventing a final rupture between the two nations. Interests of three countries in Mexico would be seriously threatened by an international war.

Traveler Carries Menagerie in Grip

DUBLIN, Nov. 4.—Smith Williams, of Whiteville, who arrived Monday to attend the fair, brought three rattlesnakes in his suit case. He will exhibit them at the fair.

"He brought a dog and a fox which had been kept together and were as friendly as two puppies."

SOUTH SIDE HAS NEW CHAMPION IN COUNCIL

Councilman-Elect S. L. Dallas, Seventh Ward.

Will Make Demands.

But they have, and now our saving grace is that we hold the balance of political power because we have the most people.

"Citizens were going to get the boys together and demand what we deserve. And, believe me, we'll get it."

"Why," chimed in Councilman Albert Thomas, "aren't the city and county at work on a boulevard from West End to Grant Park that will be one of the finest drives in the city?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Dallas, "how many of us boys have got money to ride that distance? We want something closer home for all the people in that vast area of thousands of souls. The family on a little hillside street is more interested in a dry way to get home than in an automobile boulevard."

Outburst a Surprise.

The outburst of eloquence was something of a surprise to many City Hall people. They had not known Mr. Dallas well.

In his speeches when he comes to Council they saw the glories of Congressman J. J. Greer's oratorical flights and the seductive appeals of Alderman J. N. Madison, contractor, to close streets wide into things of lesser note.

EVERY PEACE EFFORT BLOCKED BY HUERTA, DIPLOMATS ARE TOLD

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—General Huerta will ignore, for the time being at least, the demand of the United States that he resign from the Presidency made last Sunday, but just learned by the public. His future action will depend on the outcome of conferences which he will hold with members of the diplomatic corps. The first of these took place at the National Palace last night while troops guarded entrance to the structure. None of the diplomats who took part would discuss the meeting to-day.

It is reported, however, that Huerta made a long address to the foreign envoys, told them of the steps he was taking to restore peace in Mexico and pledged himself to establish tranquility in the republic if he could have their support. It is said that he made a bitter attack on the American government, declaring that his every effort had been hampered from the beginning of his administration by Washington officials, and that had it not been for their interference he would have been able to secure a loan large enough to establish the financial stability of his government.

The conferences are expected to last several days and Huerta is expected to make his reply to President Wilson's demands only after the foreign envoys have communicated his plea to their home governments and received instructions.

Hope for Powers' Support.

Huerta by this action is making a strong bid for international support, but no matter what the outcome may be, it is expected that his answer will be a complete defiance of the American demands. He has a fair hope of securing support from other powers, but if this fails he is expected to "go it alone" and lead the Mexican army in person against any invaders.

It is possible that Huerta will make no formal reply to the American demand, but will, instead, have passports handed to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the United States Charge d'Affaires. This will be official notification that the diplomatic relations of the two countries are severed.

The next step in the natural course of events would be to demand that the diplomatic relations of the two countries are severed. The envoys of Russia, Germany and Norway returned from Vera Cruz today.

These three men, fresh from their conferences with John Lind, are to exert great influence in preventing a final rupture between the two nations. Interests of three countries in Mexico would be seriously threatened by an international war.

Trouble in Huerta Cabinet.

Reports that President Wilson demanded the resignation of Huerta and assurances that he would not establish in power as a successor a man of the type of General Aureliano Blanquet, was immediately followed today by rumors of trouble in Huerta's cabinet. These said that Senator Moreno, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and Senator Llanos, Minister of Communications, would soon present their resignations.

Llanos was recently shot in the leg by a jealous husband because of attention which the Minister had been paying his wife, and it is said that several members of the cabinet have objected to his taking part in official conferences since that time.

It is reported that there has been strife in the cabinet for some time on matters relating to the granting of oil concessions to Lord Cowdray's company and on other matters of finance.

Ever since Huerta took office he has been urging President Huerta to acquire all oil interests and to exploit them.

President Playing His Last Card.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Mexican situation has reached a crisis. This was the unanimous opinion in official circles today. None would express any doubt but that this coun-

No Ultimatum to Huerta, Says Envoy

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, American Charge d'Affaires, declared today that he had transmitted no ultimatum to General Huerta.

"I have presented no note to the Mexican Government within the last ten days," said O'Shaughnessy. "I have not told Huerta that any dispatches from Mexico brought to him immediately."

State Department officials feel that the Mexican situation, which several times has reached the boiling point, is now about to "boil over"—the state had been precipitated by the ultimatum from President Wilson to President Huerta, delivered by Charles O'Shaughnessy on Sunday.

The patience of the administration is exhausted, it is declared, and having a military and naval force available to back up its demands, President Wilson is understood to have decided to play his last diplomatic card and to follow it with a demonstration from the seven battalions and 1,200 troops already within striking distance of Mexico.

Congress Ready to Act.

With the President out of Washington no hostile developments are looked for to-day, but it is predicted in official circles that if, upon his return to the Capital to-night, he finds that Huerta has defied the United States and has decided to remain in power, the army and navy will be ordered into action. This can only be done with the consent of Congress, but those who know say that the President will have little trouble in getting this consent.

Meanwhile matters will rest, waiting for Huerta's reply to Sunday's ultimatum, which was learned at the State Department to-day, was of such a nature as to make a failure to reply equivalent to a direct defiance.

Both the army and navy are ready for action. It was stated at the War and Navy Departments to-day.

Twelve hundred troops are camped along the Mexican border and the army transports are held, provisioned at Valparaiso, Texas, to move to Vera Cruz if necessary.

Could Win in Three Months.

Twelve battalions are already at Vera Cruz and Tampico and others are on their way, due to arrive in HUERTA DEFIANT; REFUSES TO ANSWER U. S.

Arnold Says Precedent Provides for New Frank Trial

HOPE LEE JUDGE DOUBT

Attorney Says Supreme Court Decisions Make Retrial Obligatory Under Present Conditions.

Attorneys for Leo M. Frank Tuesday made the declaration that the Supreme Court of Georgia could avoid giving their client a new trial only by upsetting a well-established precedent and by reversing every Supreme Court decision which has borne on the trial judge's duty to set aside a verdict of guilty for which he is not convinced there was sufficient warrant.

"I am not venturing to predict what the Supreme Court will do in the matter," said Reuben R. Arnold, one of the counsel. "It seems to me, however, that the law is clear on this point. There is no escape from the fact that the Supreme Court repeatedly has ruled that the trial judge, if he is not fully satisfied that the evidence has demonstrated the guilt of the defendant, has no other course open than to order a new trial."

"We will not have to have our contention on an isolated case. Georgia reports show that this exact point has been decided again and again by the Supreme Court. In not one of the cases, I think, did the presiding judge so strongly express his doubt of the guilt or innocence of the defendant as did Judge Roan in respect to Leo Frank."

Roan's Position Clear.
"Judge Roan went out of his way to make his stand in the matter perfectly clear. He mentioned that the case had given him much concern and worry--more than any other case which he had presided. He then made his important declaration that, although he had listened to the evidence and arguments for 30 days, he was not yet convinced of the man's innocence or guilt."

"The law, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, clearly lays down the principle that the judge has responsibility in the matter and can not shift every ounce of the burden onto the shoulders of the jury. Judge Roan virtually has been reprimanded for evading his duty in this respect."

Attorney Arnold mentioned a number of cases illustrating his point. In the case of Livingston vs. Taylor, 132 Georgia, the Supreme Court enunciated the principle in these words, quoting in part from a previous decision in the case of Rogers vs. the State, 115 Georgia:

"From the tenor of his order his honor seems to have been of the impression that if there was evidence to support the verdict he was not authorized to set it aside. This view is erroneous."

Gives Judge Discretion.
"On this point the decision in the Rogers case is cited."

"The law confers upon trial judges a discretion in granting or refusing new trials in cases where the verdict is alleged to be contrary to evidence or without evidence to support it, and imposes upon them the duty of exercising this discretion. This court will not allow a conviction of a crime founded upon weak, unsatisfactory and doubtful evidence to stand, when the record discloses strong reason for believing that the judge below was not himself fully satisfied with the findings of the jury."

CHINESE PUPILS SHOW BRIGHTNESS IN TESTS

Ruth Jung, 11, and baby sister, Loraine. Ruth enters Williams Street School in Fifth Grade.

Mother Pleased Over Outcome of Battle to Get Children Into Atlanta Schools.

Little Ruth and Ollie Jung are busy Tuesday taking examinations at the Williams Street School to determine what grade they shall start in. Ruth, who is 11 years old, and Ollie, 8 years old, are the daughter and son of Joe Jung, a Chinaman, whose wife is a Georgia woman.

The law which holds the Chinese-American tots out of the public white schools of Atlanta was removed Saturday by city Attorney J. L. Mayson when he handed down a favorable decision in the case, which has been fought by the first Central child of Atlanta.

Mr. and Mrs. Jung have four children--Ruth, Ollie, Mary, who is 3 years old, and Loraine, a baby girl 6 months.

"I don't like the public school a little bit, and I don't want to go there," said Ollie Monday after coming home from the Williams Street School.

Ollie Fears Whipping.
"Why not?" asked Mrs. Jung. It is surprising, for Ollie had long wanted to attend the big school where her little playmates went each day.

"Cause the boys told me they give whippings real often," said the dark-skinned boy, hanging his head. And Ruth says he doesn't like the big school, either.

"There are too many boys and girls in the school."

PREPARING MILITIA FOR WAR, IS REPORTED

BROWN WILL AGREEMENT ENDS SUIT

The long-drawn-out fight over the will of Julius Brown, brother of the former governor, disposing of an estate rated well above a million dollars, was ended Tuesday with an agreement among the contestants, ratified by Judge Ellis, of the Superior Court.

The agreement virtually upholds the will in its original form and puts 750 shares of stock in the Joseph M. Brown Company, worth about $75,000, in the pockets of the executor, Joseph M. Brown, former governor.

Mrs. Mary V. Connally brought the original suit. The agreement is an involved document. From a hasty examination court officials said they figured that it gives Georgia Tech one of the parties in the suit about $25,000.

Others who figured in the fight and who will share in the distribution of stock worth many thousands of dollars are George M. Brown, Kilah A. Brown and Sally E. Brown.

The Brown will case is one of the most noted in the State's history and has been the subject of active legal agitation for a number of years.

Property in many States is involved. Julius Brown was an extensive land owner, but not the entire estate was tied up by the court battle.

MOTHER OF JOHN EISEL, 9, KILLED BY CAR, WOULD SUE CITY AS NEGLIGENT.

The pathetic death of John K. Eisel, Jr., the 9-year-old boy who was run over by an automobile driven by Robert Caldwell, of No. 34 Gordon street, at the corner of Peachtree and Ivy streets Monday afternoon, caused his mother and a number of her women neighbors who came to her home at No. 412 Mills street Tuesday to console her, to bitterly denounce the police for their neglect of the families that live in this section, which is just two blocks from a pretentious part of West Peachtree street, are poor. They are not ashamed of the fact, but on account of it feel more keenly what they term total disregard on the part of the city.

Mrs. Eisel had been prosecuted since the death of her little boy at St. Joseph's Infirmary Monday night. The good women of the neighborhood gathered at her home Tuesday to express their sympathy and help care for the smaller children.

Calls Censor Death Trap.
Just at the time a reporter for The Georgian arrived at the home of J. H. Caldwell, father of the young man who had caused the accident, called to show his interest.

The woman, her eyes red and swollen from much crying, came into the little sitting room, and four little children collected about her knees.

"I don't blame your boy, although he may have been very careless," she began, and tears started flowing again. "I blame the police for permitting a death trap at that corner. Automobiles fly back and forth along there all day. From what I can hear there was no officer there yesterday afternoon when my little boy was killed on his way home from school."

"My husband takes the same view of it. I wish he were here to tell you our side of the case."

Mothers Live in Dread.
"Most of the children who live in this neighborhood go to the Catholic Parish school, for we want them to get good Christian training. They have to cross that street every day. We mothers live in awful dread that some accident will happen to them. My little boy was killed on his way home from school."

"I am tempted to take every one of my children out of school and all the children collected about her knees. In one of the neighbors, 'I saw in the papers where the policemen were carrying little children across the street to protect them. The pictures showed the children to be beautifully dressed. I never heard of a policeman even touching a child of a poor family, unless it was his own."

Would Sue City.
"If I knew how to sue the city," continued Mrs. Eisel.

"Not long ago there were about a dozen people to call at my home when my 15-year-old boy had been reported for throwing a rock near an old woman. The boy was not guilty of any crime. One policeman at that crowded corner yesterday afternoon would have saved my little boy's life. But the policeman was not there."

"Yes," said another neighbor, "the police are as I have seen them--are very active about unimportant things."

Sheep Flocks to Mow the Grass in City's Parks Urged

A brand-new idea of municipal efficiency was sprung by Park Commissioner L. C. Green Tuesday when he said he would introduce a resolution at the meeting of the Park Board providing for the purchase of flocks of sheep to keep the grass in Piedmont and Grant Parks mowed.

The idea has appealed to the sense of humor of Commissioner Frank Reynolds. He said he approved of the fact that Commissioner Green was learning about parks by reading up on the care of old English estates, but that if the sheep were purchased he would offer a resolution requesting them not to disturb the flowers of shrubbery.

Also he proposes that the Park Department purchase a flock of muscovy ducks to police the lakes.

WOMAN ARRESTED AS RECKLESS AUTO DRIVER

Mrs. T. L. Ambrose, of Lawrenceville, Ga., Tuesday was arrested at Five Points on a charge of reckless driving made by William Brown, No. 2 Central avenue, who claimed that he had been struck by Mrs. Ambrose's automobile.

Mrs. Ambrose was accompanied by her husband. They drove into Atlanta early in the morning.

Mrs. Ambrose denied that her machine had hit Brown. She said she was driving slowly and that Brown stepped in front of the automobile, but jumped back in time to avoid an accident. She was released after paying up $10.75 collateral. Her trial was set for Wednesday morning.

Chief Raps Useless Patrol Wagon Calls

Chief Beavers, in a heart-to-heart talk with his police captain and sergeant Tuesday, declared against unnecessary "rides" to headquarters for the most minor offenses.

The chief told his men that citizens can "reportly identify themselves" when their automobiles are taken to the station, but simply served with a copy of charges on the spot and released.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.--A woman, a cough with her police captain and sergeant Tuesday, declared against unnecessary "rides" to headquarters for the most minor offenses.

The chief told his men that citizens can "reportly identify themselves" when their automobiles are taken to the station, but simply served with a copy of charges on the spot and released.

Court Tells Jury to Free Man of Gaming

An instruction to the jury to return a verdict of not guilty in the case of J. H. Jolly, charged with gaming, was given by Judge Calhoun in the Criminal Court Tuesday morning.

Jolly was arrested several months ago in a raid on a poker game at a hotel. Other men caught were found guilty and fined, but the evidence against Jolly was not convincing.

Weather conditions, according to the official forecast Tuesday, indicated a return to real fall weather at 3 o'clock Tuesday.

GEORGIA MILITIAMEN REPORTED ORDERED TO BE READY FOR SERVICE

THE MEXICAN SITUATION: Dispatches from Mexico City state that Huerta's resignation has been demanded by President Wilson.

Later dispatches announce that Huerta will ignore the demand for the time being, and has appealed to representatives of the powers for their backing.

Washington dispatches state that Secretary Bryan was at his office nearly all night, expecting more important news from Mexico. Early in the day he refused to deny or affirm the reports of an ultimatum. Later he denied that an ultimatum had been issued.

Senator Bacon of Georgia, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, says the Mexican situation has about reached a "conclusion." Navy and War Departments are active.

Dispatches from Mexico City carry a denial from Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy that he had presented any ultimatum to Huerta.

Huerta refused to discuss the subject with interviewers. In diplomatic circles it is recognized that Secretary Bryan's denial mentions "ultimatum," but does not say that a note has been sent to Huerta.

Georgia militia is reported to be under orders for immediate call to service, and General Evans, who is on a vacation in Mississippi is reported to have received orders to rejoin his command at Fort McPherson to be ready for movement of troops.

Gen. Evans Reported Recalled

It was reported on apparently reliable authority Tuesday that the Georgia militia, in common with the National Guard in more than a score of States, was being equipped for service in Mexico by the Government to be in readiness for immediate service.

Transports and ambulances have been ordered and instructions given to keep the national guardmen up to top notch, according to these reports. The War Department is prepared to move an immense detachment of militia from Georgia and neighboring states.

The same report had it that General Evans, who left for a hunting trip in Mississippi, had been recalled in the expectation that men of the Second Brigade would soon be given marching orders.

It was also said that the regiment at Fort McPherson had been given secret instructions to be in readiness. None of these reports could be officially confirmed, but militia and regulars have been expecting developments for a week past.

Huerta Bitterly Assails U. S.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 4.--General Huerta will ignore, for the time being at least, the demand of the United States that he resign from the Presidency made last Sunday, but just learned of the public. His future action will depend on the outcome of conferences which he will hold with members of the diplomatic corps. The first of these took place at the National Palace last night while troops guarded entrance to the structure. None of the diplomats who took part would discuss the meeting to-day.

It is reported, however, that Huerta made a long address to the foreign envoys, told them of the steps he was taking to restore peace in Mexico and pledged himself to establish tranquility in the republic if he could have their support. It is said that he made a bitter attack on the American government, declaring that his every effort had been hampered from the beginning of his administration by Washington officials, and that had it not been for their interference he would have been able to secure a loan large enough to establish the financial stability of his government.

The conferences are expected to last several days and Huerta is expected to make his reply to President Wilson's demands only after the foreign envoys have communicated his plea to their home governments and received instructions.

Hope for Powers' Support. Huerta by this action is making a strong bid for international support, but no matter what the outcome may be, it is expected that his answer will be a complete defiance of the American demands. He has a faint hope of securing support from other powers, but if this fails he is expected to "let it alone" and lead the Mexican army in person against any invaders. It is possible that Huerta will make no formal reply to the American demand, but will, instead, have passed.

NUTTING FORCES SEE VICTORY IN COUNCIL

Friends of Alderman James R. Nutting Tuesday declared that there was no longer any doubt about his election to the office of Mayor Pro Tem. They claim 17 of the 30 votes in Council. The optimistic announcement was made after a conference of

M'REYNOLDS TO VISIT PRISON ON PROBE

Attorney General is Reported as Ready to Begin Investigation of Hawthorne Charges.

Information was received in Atlanta Tuesday that the United States Department of Justice investigation into the charges made by Julian Hawthorne, noted writer, and others against the Federal Prison here will soon be under way.

According to one report, Attorney General McReynolds himself will pay a personal visit of inspection to the prison to acquaint himself with the general conditions.

The actual investigation, however, will be conducted by a special agent acting with either R. V. Ludlow, head of the prison parole board, or J. C. Adkins, assistant United States Attorney General.

In spite of the fact that Warden W. H. Meyer, in denying all charges of bad food, mismanagement and general bad conditions, announced that the prison was open to the public to judge for themselves, visitors regarded as critics of the institution, have been refused admittance.

Mr. Meyer has taken hold of the situation with an iron hand in an effort to stay the tide of criticism, and strict orders have been issued to guards that they must not discuss conditions within the walls.

the leaders, which took place immediately following the adjournment of Council Monday afternoon. Supporters of Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, second strongest in the race for Mayor Pro Tem, are by no means willing to concede a victory to Alderman Nutting. They really expect to win, but they admit that their only chance is to get all the support that is now lined up behind Alderman J. H. Hurwell.

Conceding that that strength goes to Alderman Ragsdale, the Nutting men claim that they still have their 17 votes. Alderman Nutting has been not forward as a strictly anti-Woodward party candidate and the leaders of this faction take the view that they can afford to suffer defeat. They would regard the defeat of Nutting as a Woodward victory in Council, something that has not happened since the beginning of the present administration.

Woodward Keeps Silent. Mayor Woodward is silent, and that adds to the uncertainty of the situation. He might exert himself before the voting takes place.

Another unsettled point is that a new member of Council must be elected from the Second Ward before the selection of the new Mayor Pro Tem. Councilman Thomas I. Lynch, senior Councilman from that ward, announced Tuesday that he would resign on December 1. His successor will be named by Council instead of by the voters of that ward. It is said that either Robert R. Olin or J. L. McCord will be the man. It is not yet known how either of these would stand in the Mayor Pro Tem fight. But if the Nutting forces control the strength they claim, the new Councilman, whoever he may be, very likely will be a Nutting supporter. He would have to be that, to be elected.

How They Line Up. The known attitudes of the members of Council are as follows: For Nutting—Woodward, Alverson Thomas, Madison Brown, Wood, Boynton, Reynolds, Owens, Candler, White, Haver, and 12.

For Ragsdale—Knight, Shepard, Hurwell, Colford, Humphrey, King, Brown.

For Hurwell—Ashley, McDonald, Douthett, Harwell, Kelley and the Second Ward, Fairburn, Lee, Nutting, Armstrong, Dallas, Ragsdale—5.

That we are able to offer such lavish assortments under price simply evidences the high position Rich's holds in the silk world. We have acquired these silks chiefly because those weavers and manufacturers who have helped further this great Silk Sale know they will be repaid by future orders on regular merchandise.

PRESIDENT PLAYING HIS FINAL CARD; DEPENDS ON ARMY AND NAVY TO WIN

ports landed at Nelson, Oahu, Hawaii, the United States Coast Guard. This will be official notification that the diplomatic relations of the two countries are severed.

The next step in the natural course of events would be war.

President Playing Final Card in Mexican Trouble

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The Mexican situation has reached a crisis. This was the unanimous opinion in official circles today. Some would express any doubt that this country was on the verge of war with her southern neighbor. After practically an all-night vigil at his office, waiting for news from Mexico City, Secretary of State Bryan was at his desk early today with orders that any dispatches from Mexico be brought to him immediately.

State Department officials feel that the Mexican situation, which several times has reached the boiling point, is now about to "boil over." The crisis had been precipitated by the ultimatum from President Huerta to President Wilson, delivered by Charles O'Donoghue on Sunday.

The ultimatum demanded that the United States withdraw its military and naval forces available to play the last diplomatic card and to follow it with a demonstration from the seven battalions and 1,200 troops already within striking distance of Mexico.

Congress Ready to Act.—With the President out of Washington to look for today, it is predicted in official circles that if the ultimatum is rejected, the Congress will be called to the Capitol to-night.

Under the terms of the Constitution, the army and navy will be ordered into action. This can only be done with the consent of Congress, but those who know say that the President will have little trouble in getting this consent.

Meanwhile matters are quiet, waiting for Huerta's reply to Sunday's ultimatum, which it was learned at the State Department today, was such a nature as to make a failure to reply equivalent to a direct defiance.

Could Win in Three Months.—The battle lines are already at Vera Cruz and Tampico and others are on their way, due to arrive tomorrow. This will give the United States a force ample to shell and capture both of these ports and hold them, pending the arrival of the army transports. The plans of the War Department, completed yesterday, leave the placing in the field of half a million troops within ten days.

As to the military and naval experts here claim that the subjugation of Mexico might not take more than three months.

Will neither affirm nor deny the report that an ultimatum has been delivered to Huerta by Charles O'Donoghue. The State Department will give out no information concerning Mexico at the present time, said Secretary Bryan today.

Bacon and Bryan Confer.—When pressed for information concerning the ultimatum said to have been delivered to Huerta on Sunday, the Secretary of State replied with some heat that he considered the question to be "improper."

Later Secretary Bryan denied that an ultimatum has been sent to Mexico.

The Secretary gave out the following statement: "It is a rule of this department to give out no information regarding reports concerning international matters. But the nature of the dispatches from Mexico, and the manner in which they are being handled, suggest a departure from the usual policy."

Had Lung Trouble and Expected to Die.—With the military and naval forces on their way, the Secretary of State today said that he was expected to die.

He said that he was expected to die, and that he was expected to die, and that he was expected to die.

He said that he was expected to die, and that he was expected to die, and that he was expected to die.

How U. S. Would Strike First Intervention Blow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Reports of the Navy tonight, it is said, that in a drawer of his desk an order was found for the capture of Vera Cruz and Tampico.

It is said that the order was dated to give the signal for the opening gun of the campaign against Mexico.

In case of armed intervention, the plan as formulated by experts at the Army War College, and by the Navy, is that the United States would strike first.

Mayor Keeps Up War On Fire Alarm Plan

Mayor Woodward Tuesday called Fire Chief Cummings to the office for another conference on the new fire alarm system. The Mayor objected strenuously to the abandonment of the old alarm system before this new system is completed.

"The contract is just as good as the old contract," he said, "and it is not fair to the city to abandon the old system before the new system is completed."

When there was a disorderly house across the way last summer and we reported it they came out, smiled at the woman and walked away. After they were gone the woman made faces at us and said they would not be arrested.

We work hard and try to educate our children and pay taxes, but we don't seem to be able to get anything from the city," resumed Mrs. Kline.

"I know your son was at fault, Mr. Caldwell," she said, turning to the driver's father. "I heard that he passed back and forth on that street in his car five times before he struck little John. Then, from what I heard, he made like he didn't think he had hurt the boy."

"He took him to the hospital in his automobile, and someone came and got me in a car. I know your boy wouldn't have run over my child for anything in the world if he had stopped to think."

"That's why we blame the police, because they allow people to race their cars up and down the street and don't look out for little children."

The women decided they would attempt some sort of concerted action for the protection of the children of their neighborhood.

They arrested my little son once for throwing a ball in the streets.

SHOP EARLY

Buy your Christmas presents EARLY—Early in the day and do it now. That will be your biggest gift of the holidays to the workers behind the counters and on the delivery wagons. We begin now to suggest the advisability of this action for many reasons—principally the one above. But the shopping process, while simple on its face, is in reality complex. And the carrying out of holiday shopping plans is exacting alike to customers and to our store organization.

People wait till they reach the store before they begin to formulate their shopping plans. Thus they must do their thinking, deciding and acting in the time that should be devoted solely to selling.

We want to urge our customers to begin now to map out their shopping campaigns; to plan the extent and direction of their buying; to make out tentative lists of whom to buy for and what to buy them. We want to suggest that customers visit our store while the plans are in making, even though you do not shop during the planning. We want you to be in close proximity to the goods and will help to clarify your plans.

We want to show you that deferred shopping, after all, is more distressing to you than it is to our clerks. The latter suffer only mental and physical fatigue, while you suffer both and then get unsatisfactory purchases. Plan your gifts at leisure, it's more satisfactory in every way. You'll be more pleased with your selection, the recipient doubly so because of the care and discrimination exercised on his or her behalf.

No need for your conviction of suggestion NOW. Make it constructive, co-operative, helpful.

We are really to interest you in every part of our WILLING SERVICE store at your convenience.

Incidentally might say many of our buyers are now in the Eastern markets gathering large stocks for you to make your selections from, our advance orders placed early in the year are opening daily. New fashions every counter in every department daily. Make it a point to shop early from now until Christmas. We want you to feel this is YOUR store at all times.

Just follow daily announcements in the papers, they will convey much to interest you, we think. Always at your service.

MAJOR LEAGUE MANAGERS WILL ALL RETAIN JOBS

First Time in National Circuit History That No Changes Are Announced by Owners.

By Damon Runyon.

NO record has already been established by the fall of 1933. With the first of November hard by, it seems to be generally admitted that there will be no managerial changes in the dear old National League next season, something unprecedented in the history of this celebrated organization.

This is indeed tough on Roger Bresnahan, Felsor Jones and the other property possibilities of the day, but it is true, nevertheless. A few weeks ago rumors began popping all along the firing line until it would be like the usual fusillade, but gradually the noise died away, until now you hear only an occasional spent paragraph falling out in some column.

Bill Dahlen's sentence to Brooklyn for another year has practically been confirmed by Charles Herrmann. Phil Dahlen, while there has never been any doubt about John J. McGraw's Stalling and Fred Clarke's There had been some talk of a change at Cincinnati, but Harry Herrmann's boot in letting Heister O'Day go without a second year, and McGraw and Tinker has been signed for another year.

Tinker Deserves a Chance.

No manager can be expected to produce results in a single year, unless he has a good manager. George Stallings, while Tinker's finish was a great disappointment to his friends, he failed to do so at least one more crack at the job before he is to be retired.

The beginning of the season of 1934 is a long ways off, and a lot of things have happened in a few months, but at present there is no war, or even rumors of war, in connection with the managerial job. The only thing that is sure is that the National League will be a lot better off than it was last year, and that the American League will be a lot better off than it was last year.

Boston's Stand Too Small.

The Braves' front proved entirely inadequate last season, and as there is every reason to believe that business will be even better this year, the club will have to make arrangements to accommodate the crowd of late May.

Heisman Plans to Put Tech Through Stiff Grind To-day

Strenuous work for the Auburn game Saturday will start to-day, and fans can look for Coach Heisman and his team to do their share of the work to put the team in the proper shape for the big battle.

Alexander was the only player injured in last Saturday's battle, and he is expected to be around ready for practice in a couple of days. The other players are in fairly good shape and appear eager to get back into the grid.

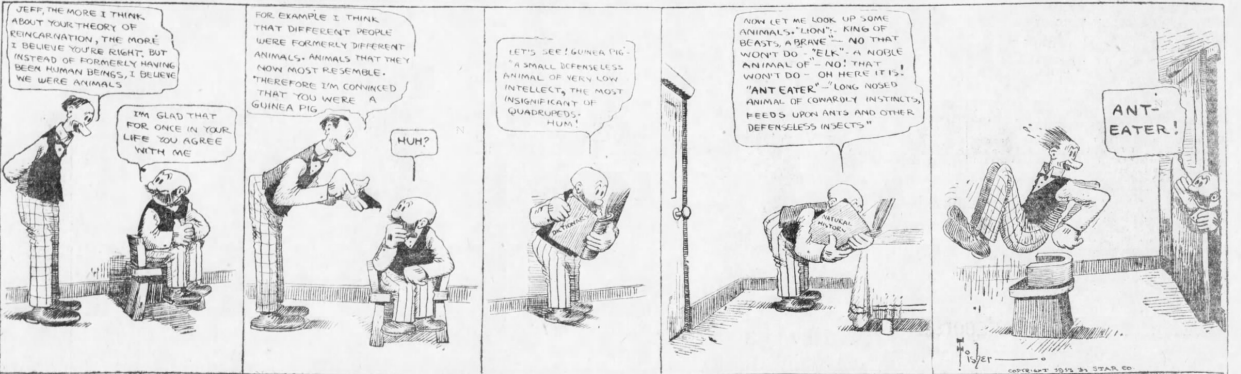

Devere will miss much of his time this week strengthening the defense, as the time will have to be at his disposal to stop the slugging Auburn back.

Auburn's condition after the hard game with Louisiana State University is not known, but reports from the game day show that the players of Auburn were injured.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—President C. W. Murphy, of the Chicago National League, said he had found considerable fault in the reforms the ball players are making in the game.

Ty Cobb May Go to Red Sox Speaker for Yanks; Big Deal

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Boston is responsible for the latest news that Speaker is to be traded to the Red Sox, which this Speaker will become a member of the Boston team.

Also that Speaker is somewhat dissatisfied with his surroundings in Boston, and the release of Jack Stahl last summer and the appointment of Carrigan as St. Louis manager.

Clear Vint, the Tiger's second baseman, who is in California, wrote a letter for a Press paper recently in which he declared that the Detroit Tigers had very little use for Cobb in the club.

Those who have started the story in Boston say that Speaker is to be traded to the Red Sox, which this Speaker will become a member of the Boston team.

The originators of the story seem to think that Speaker and Jennings would seriously consider a trade by which Speaker would be traded to the Red Sox, which this Speaker will become a member of the Boston team.

The fact that Speaker is to be traded to the Red Sox, which this Speaker will become a member of the Boston team.

Football Hardest Sport in World to "Dope" Out-Crissom
Eleven Looks Best.

By Frank C. Menker.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The undeniable fact that football is football is about the only thing that today checks the impulse to order an "easy" championship "tanner," the hand-off of it to that Harvard game and the ringing down of the curtain on the most critical season in the East.

But football being football makes every season sport in the world in "dope" out—a game that furnishes more surprises than a temperamental prima donna—and therefore it is necessary to curb those impulses and let the boys fight it out for seven weeks more.

It is not running away with any and all ideas, because Atlanta had a good club last year, and made a moving finish that brought out some prodigious results.

But allowing for all of that, and taking into consideration the fact that 1912 was a "black" year in baseball everywhere, Atlanta's divorce of 2,660 girls for a town of Atlanta's size is a bigger town.

An average of 2,660 persons to a town is considered good, out in the American Association, which includes Louisville, Toledo, and St. Louis.

Atlanta's average in 1912 was 2,660 persons to a town, and its membership, as a tribute to the town, is 2,660.

HARVARD with its smiling at the end of almost every season, collides with the speedy Princeton aggregation next Saturday in the fire of the three big games in the East. Judged by the record, the showings on far this season Harvard is to triumph by a score around 10 to 0. But, football is football, and it's not back your overcoat and belt the proceeds on Harvard, unless you want to take a chance on going either and either this winter overcoatless.

CONLEY VS. DELANEY.

In another bout Joe Babbs, the Hammond wren, will collide with Young Stinet, the featherweight star in the eye of Larry Ledwith.

PHIL HARRISON STOPS LINN.
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Phil Harrison, of Chicago, 145-pounder, will stop Young Linn, of St. Louis, 145-pounder, in a scheduled fight on Saturday night. Harrison led from the start. The two fought at 145 pounds.

RARE GIFTS FOR PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER

Fur Coat Made of Pelts of 1,000
Chipmunks Is One of the Handsome Presents.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—All ordinary occupations at the White House have been superseded by the preparations for Miss Jessie Wilson's wedding to Francis B. Sayre on the 25th. The invitations are already out and Miss Wilson is waiting for the wedding gown. This is of softest creamy satin, trimmed with a quantity of rare lace, the gift of the Vice President Mrs. J. B. Sayre, and is being made in New York, as are the dainty bridesmaid costumes.

All sorts of rumors are afloat as to the color scheme of the wedding. The decorations in the east room are soft, with gold and yellow, and certain high authorities declare that the bridesmaid gowns will be of soft cream and yellow in harmony.

"Mums" in Evidence.
Quarantine of the mums is being given at the National Botanical Garden, presumably for the event. These "mums" range from the palest cream to the deepest scarlet, and some of them are beautiful.

No matter what may be the color of these gowns, it has been learned that the lace will be of gold lace and black velvet, with tiny sprays of velvet roses in front.

Little can be definitely learned of those who will attend the bride. It is generally believed here that Miss Margaret and Miss Eleanor Wilson will be co-maids of honor and that four bridesmaids will be chosen from the girl roommates of the bride.

Only about seven hundred and fifty guests can be comfortably entertained in the East Room, and the members of Congress and their families, the Cabinet and their families, the Supreme Court circle and the all-important diplomatic corps will crowd up to that mark.

Being copies of Paris models tells much, but not enough, not so much as your eyes will. You have heard, you know, how the powers that be in the world of fashion look upon velvets and pile fabrics this season.

It is such suits as these that have won velvet its favor.

Plain chiffon velvets, brocaded velvets, silk plushes and broadtail cloth are represented. The colors are those that you would expect in such a representative lot of suits, black, navy, Copenhagen, marine, plum, tete de negre, mahogany and brown—black predominates.

Much fur is used—skunk and fitch—most fetchingly about collars and cuffs. There are vestees as rich as orientalism knows, there are cutaway coats and jaunty blouses that had their origin in Russia, draped skirts with the grace that only Paris could effect.

Wonderful suits to be priced so.

Just such dresses as women want for street wear and for those other occasions when a smart silk dress has no equal.

To buy them so advantageously could hardly be expected this early in the season. For the reason that their price could never be discovered in the styles, the fabrics, the trimmings.

A list of the kinds of silks reads much the same as a list of the most fashionable silks.

Crepes de chine predominate, then come crepe meteors and Canton crepes.

These colors—navy, Copenhagen, marine brown, green, taupe, wistaria and black.

Many with smart colorful Scotch plaid belts, sashes and collars; others frilly about the yokes, collars and cuffs, with sheer laces and plaited nets.

There are many styles, vestee effects, draped skirts, many of them slashed a bit; there are button trimmings that add wonderfully to the completeness of a style.

$12.50!

That amount is reached before the cost of the materials is added up!

Fashionable Furs

To-morrow we present the furs that are fashionable in this good season of 1913. This means much more than a similar announcement in other years, for furs are enjoying a favor that they have never before known. This display is to do full justice to them. Novelty or fancy furs have the call. High colors are used, the fur dyes have responded splendidly to the colorfulness that dominates the fashions. Neckpieces, muffs, coats are more graceful than before.

That bulkiness and weight that we were wont to associate with fur coats is not, they drape, they follow the slender lines; neckpieces are supple, to be used in many, many "effects." Muffs are in novel shapes—some one described them as "one-sided"—the tendency is away from the conventional.

Er' Fox is notably present! Red Fox, Cross Fox, Pointed Fox sets are rich and beautiful, not to mention the ever-popular and serviceable Black Fox.

Fitch, a fur of favor a generation ago, is back, more beautiful than ever—its soft gold to dark brown shadings make a strong appeal to women. The Tiger Fitch is another novelty.

Lynx, Jap Mink and Baum Marten retain the place they have won.

JUDGE HILL, WRITES A SPLENDID EDITORIAL That All the People Should Read, Study, and Try to Remember

Judge Benjamin H. Hill's letter addressed to Governor Slaton is so able, timely and carefully thought out that we republish it in its entirety to-day in these columns. It is a SPLENDID EDITORIAL—the best perhaps that has appeared in The Georgian in many a day.

The capitalized words are ours. We wish to emphasize them, and we ask our readers to study them and try to grasp their full meaning.

JUDGE HILL'S LETTER:

His Excellency, JOHN M. Slaton,
Governor, Atlanta, Ga.

My dear Governor Slaton:

I cannot content myself with merely a formal expression of appreciation of the honor conferred upon me in my appointment as one of the judges of the Superior Court. The honor is all the more valued because it comes from one who, in his own career, has so well illustrated the loftiest ideals of a noble profession, and who has on frequent occasions publicly expressed his high conception of the character and dignity of the judicial office. I trust that it will not be inappropriate for me to state to you as the alter ego of the people of the State the reasons impelling me to give up the high judicial position to which you have so recently re-elected me,

without opposition, for a term of six years.

Briefly, these are, less responsibility, less work, more compensation, and a closer association with members of the Atlanta bar, to whom I am so great a debtor. TO A JUDGE WITH A

CONSCIENCE, THE ULTIMATE

DECISION RESPECTING A

MAN'S LIBERTY, REPUTA-

TION AND PROPERTY IS AT-

TENDED WITH FEARSOME

ANXIETY, THE POSSIBILITY

OF ERROR IS A CONSTANT

AND HARASSING MENACE TO

PEACE AND CONTENTMENT.

I do not mean in any degree to minimize the responsibility of a judge of a trial court, for in my opinion the office of judge of the Superior Court is in some respects the most important in the State. If, however, the judge of that court errs in his judgment,

he can confidently and happily re-lie upon the dispositive Court of Appeals to correct his error. Not so with the judge of the court of last resort. His error is remediless.

The work of the Court of Appeals, heavy in the beginning, has so rapidly and greatly increased that how it taxes the physical endurance and mental ability of the judges, and leaves no time for recreation or recreation. Since the organization of the court January, 1907, nearly six thousand cases have been determined, and the opinions filling thirteen volumes.

All these cases have been decided on Monday the day after the argument. This is not due to the fact that there is in Georgia no right of writs whatever on the revisions of the constitution, but to the fact that there is in Georgia no

right of writs whatever on the revisions of the constitution, but to the fact that there is in Georgia no

right of writs whatever on the revisions of the constitution, but to the fact that there is in Georgia no

visions of the constitution, but to

right of writs whatever on the re-

It may be of some service to briefly, underfoot, overworked and faithful public servants.

I leave the Court of Appeals with reluctance and sadness. I have become attached to the work of the court, and I have enjoyed and been greatly benefited by collaboration with my able and collaborious associates.

In doing on the trial bench I shall endeavor ever to bear in mind the characterization of the

"Ideal Judge" as given in the old

Virginia Code: "HE SHOULD

BE ENERGETIC AND CLEAR

OF SPEECH, CERTAIN IN

OPINION, READY IN VER-

BAL EVIDENCE, SO THAT

WHATEVER PROCEEDS FROM

THE COURT SHOULD BE

MAY AT ONCE IMPRESS ALL

THE COURSE OF THE LAW

DOUBT NOT PERFECTLY. THE

JUDGE SHOULD BE QUICK OF

PERSUASION, FIRM OF PER-

POSITION, CLEAR IN JUDGMENT

IN THE INFLECTION OF HIS

VOICE, AND IN THE PRACTICE OF

EXPERIENCE IN THE VINDI-

CATION OF TENACITY, ASSIDUOUS

IN HIS TREAT-

MENT OF CRIMINALS, CARE-

FUL OF THE RIGHTS OF

STRANGERS, GENTLE TO-

WARD HIS COUNTRYMEN, HE

SHOULD BE A CONSTANT

AND SHOULD

ALL APPEARANCE OF

PARTIALITY.

All of us can, at least, emulate

the kindly attributes enumerated.

Even in this enlightened age I doubt if anything of substance can be added to what has been so well formulated in this code of the barbarians of the fourth century.

ADDITION, IT WOULD BE

THAT THE JUDGE IN THE

COURT OF LAST RESORT

NEVER ASSUME THE ROLE

OF PROSECUTOR, NOR IN-

TERFERE WITH THE RIGHTS

OF THE PARTIES.

THE BARRED PHILIS-

TIANS OF THE JURY BOX

AND WHILE ENFORCING THE

LAW, SHOULD ALSO PRO-

TECT AND PRESERVE THE

CITIZENSHIP, PERSONAL LIB-

ERTY, PERSONAL SECURITY

AND PRIVATE PROPERTY

GUARANTEED BY THE CON-

STITUTION.

In conclusion, I trust that I shall not offend the cause of good taste by stating that my Judicial duty as judge of the Court of Appeals has found both helpful and grateful inspiration.

In my daily walk through the corridors of the Capitol to my place of labor, I have been cheered by the noble members of the bar, ever by the loving contributions of the people whom he serves. In my new field of public service I will see the image of a beloved brother placed in the splendid Temple of Justice by the devotion of the members of the Atlanta bar. If the manner in which I have served the people of the State of Georgia, and the County, may win for me in some small measure the love and esteem so generously given to others, my memory, I shall indeed, be grateful and happy.

With kindest regards to you,

Yours, sincerely,

BENJ. H. HILL.

"Ah, Johnny, these are lively times! I notice that Theodore is going to cross the Andes in an automobile! He thinks if he keeps on doing stunts and gets lots of space in the papers for the next three years he can get the Republican nomination! No stunts, no space! No space, no nomination! Har, har! And there's Woodrow, too, handing out a slick line of talk on the Mexican situation. Woodrow has evidently found out that SOMETHING must be done! I've got a great ostrich farm here! This breed of ostriches is small, but their feathers are fine! They don't need much food, and they're amusing! When they stick their heads in that sand bank they think I can't find them and pull their feathers out! Haw! That grazed pole of yours is a scream, Johnny! Every time that fellow tries to climb it he falls down and it jolts the money out of his pocket and you get it! As Aristotle used to say to his pupils, 'When you see a bonhead, trim him!'"

Outdoor Life Brings Power to the Race Instructive Open-Air Amusement of Both Children and Grown-Ups Increases Nation's Vitality and Mentality.

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

Copyright, 1913, by Star Company.

THE Mothers' and Teachers' Club of Buxley, Ga., meets to discuss subjects of mutual interest, and I am asked to read a paper for discussion on "What Should be the Social Amusement of Our Children From Ten to Sixteen Years of Age, and the Hours and Why?" All kinds of outdoor games and sports should form a part of the social amusement of children. Parents and teachers will be benefited personally if they arrange their time to such a manner that they can study such amusements and act as guides and instructors for the children entrusted to their care.

The tendency of the time is more and more toward outdoor life, and this means increased vitality and more power, mental and physical, for the race. Horseback riding, basket ball, tennis, golf, croquet, water sports, running races, skating—all of these amusements are encouraged and taught.

Every Child Should Be Taught Dancing to Develop Body.

Every child should be taught to dance. It gives grace of motion, ease of deportment and develops every muscle in the body and causes good circulation of the blood.

Every home where there are children should encourage a half hour or an hour of dancing every evening before the retiring hour, or just before the law meal.

In small cities, where neighboring children live at convenient distances, it can be arranged that these dancing entertainments occur at different homes alternately. In this manner, at least three times a week, the amusement can be indulged in under agreeable social conditions.

Clubs organized for the study of natural history are excellent methods of entertaining children. After awakening the interest of the children in nature, in plant life, in insect life and sea life, by reading from good and instructive books on these subjects, picnic parties in the woods and on shore, will prove of great value. The children will prove of great value to the scientific team. THE END.

No one did, and then she proceeded to tell them. She had found her information in Ignatius Donnelly's remarkable book, "Ragnarok."

A book she would never have thought of reading save under these circumstances. Another one of the household unearthed a book all of these years, and each day she brought a new item of information about curious trees.

Still another found a book containing "One Thousand Curious Facts." The host told historical facts which are not generally known. And so the little social information circle proved a success.

Instruction in Music Will Be of Value Later in Life.

The National History Picnic Club could be made a wonderful organization if this feature were introduced and the children given an hour weekly to visit the library and hunt for information. A penny time for one who failed to bring an item would not be an unwise feature. Such a fund (if one resolutely should be given to the "societies for kindness to animals."

Fancy costume parties, where the dresses are representative of some period of history, are advisable pleasures for children to indulge in once a year. The child should take part in the study which the planning of the costume demands, and should be instructed in the deportment and mannerisms of that period.

Music ought to enter into the social pleasure of children. If a child has no musical talent or taste, it should not waste time in expensive study of that art; but every child should have the opportunity to hear good music, and should be taught to listen to it, and so form a taste and an understanding which will prove of value later in life.

These are but a few suggestions; but those who have the great privilege of caring for children, as parents and teachers, ought to be able to amplify them and turn them to practical use.

What does he know of life? Who never was hurt in the bruising strife, With luxury smothering his every turn, With no grim reason to tell and earn, Who never has seen the dead souls whirled Hither and yonder in the underworld, Who never has mingled with other men Than the smug and sanctified citizens, Who never was hungry, never was cold, Never was tempted by tainted gold, Never once strayed with passion fire? What does he know of life?

What does she know of life? The painfully proper deacon's wife, Who dwells secure in her righteous home With neither the wild nor the chance nor rain, Who never was swept by Pagan's wave To a crust of bread or a moral grave, Who never has known the wild unrest, Helging in many a girlish breast, Ready to judge and quick to spare, Scoffing at things she can never learn, Never mistaking and misapprehending, What does she know of life or living?

The Return of Prosperity

Visible evidence is at hand of the prosperity which high-priced cotton, and plenty of it, is bringing to Atlanta.

The prosperity has been predicted often and confidently in The Georgian. By most Atlantans, the forecasts were accepted jubilantly, and as accurate predictions.

Still, a few Thomases said, "We hear, but we do not see. Where are the proofs?"

The proofs have come forward. First, the bank deposits swelled to an unprecedented total, with huge clearings, and every item in clearings means a "trade" of some sort.

On top of this, it becomes plain that there is a great revival in the real estate market. "Business is picking up," to use the homely and expressive phrase.

Good-sized parcels of land are changing hands. Inquiries are numerous. Long-delayed deals are going through.

In Atlanta, the real estate market is a barometer of unusual accuracy. Atlanta has no Astors or Vanderbilts, who gained immense fortunes through the blindness of others. Here, the many, not the few, have profited by the marvelous growth of the city. The percentage of residents who are investors in "Atlanta dirt" is almost incredibly large.

Atlanta is like the great co-operative corporations. Every citizen, like every employee of the industrial and commercial corporations, has a share in the profits, through pinning his faith to the rise of values created in part by his own activities.

So the lively real estate market must be taken as a genuine sign of the times, a proof of prosperity, reawakened after a mid-summer siesta.

Jury Trials in Georgia

Editor The Georgian: Replying to the suggestion contained in your recent editorial, relative to jury trials, inviting subscribers to a discussion of the subject, I desire to make a few comments.

Mr. Atkinson, in his very able and timely article, called attention to the few searching questions which are put to jurors in felony cases. It would seem that a juror who would qualify on the voir dire (as it is spoken of by the profession) would be a fit person in every respect to act in that high capacity of deciding on the liberty or life of his fellow-man, if he is an honest man, and yet does it not happen that most of uneducated integrity do qualify and whose impartiality is often questioned?

Referring to the Frank trial, which provoked this discussion, it was freely predicted before the trial that it would perhaps take days to secure a jury, and doubt was then expressed whether a jury could be impeached at all in Fulton County to try the case.

But when it came to selecting a jury only a few hours were consumed. This may have occasioned some surprise to the layman, but to the practitioner it is only what might have been expected. Mr. Atkinson, in his article published in full the
